

Travel Preparation Checklist

We know it can be stressful to make sure you have everything you need for a road trip, especially if you're traveling for a game or tournament. To help take the stress out of travel planning, we've put together our list of absolute must-haves on your road trip to your next travel sporting event.

For the car ride:

- All electronics and chargers, including portable chargers
- Make sure your streaming services are loaded on your devices; and consider pre-downloading shows/movies so you can have uninterrupted entertainment
- Healthy snacks and drinks (and maybe some guilty pleasures)
- Download a good navigation app and save all important addresses
- It could also be helpful to download the maps in areas that might have poor cell service
- Consider being a AAA member or have assurances in place in case you hit any bumps along the way

For the games:

- Gameday gear
- Cleats/shoes
- Gloves
- Helmet
- Pads
- Bat/racquet
- Balls
- Jerseys (bring both home and away jerseys just in case)
- Water bottle
- Sunscreen
- Bug spray

For the family fun:

- Background information on the city to share with your kids
- Digital tickets for activities requiring a reservation
- Activity-specific gear/clothing (i.e. hiking boots, walking shoes, backpack, etc.)

It can be helpful to start by overpacking, then take an audit of everything laid out and the amount of space you have. From there, you can widdle it down to the necessities. Now get out there, cheer your kid on at their games, and enjoy some quality time with your family. We hope this checklist helps take some of the work out of planning for your next adventure!
